

Anodyne Health (now part of athenahealth) has developed a proprietary business intelligence software application specifically targeted at Healthcare provider organizations and had the need to integrate the product with multiple Billing platforms.

After engaging in exploratory discussions with Stage7 Systems, we engaged their resources to assist us with architecting and developing an automated monthly data extraction & transfer routine that would pull relevant data objects from the Misys Vision practice management system to our data center where the data could be imported to the Anodyne Analytics product.

Stage7 Systems was able to plan, develop, and test the integration solution successfully within 1 month.

Davin Juckett

VP of Operations & Implementations

Anodyne Health Partners, an athenahealth company